Art Unit: 1761

It is noted that claims 1, 2, 5-10, 12-17, and 21-24 are the pending claims.

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1, 2, 5-10, 12-17, and 21-24 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as anticipated by or, in the alternative, under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as obvious over Johnson (US Patent No. 4576737) and Cherukuri et al (US Patent No. 5004595).

Johnson teaches an encapsulated flavor composition wherein a carrier is used to form an emulsion and the emulsion is sprayed into a fluidized bed agglomerator charged with a small quantity of particulate carrier or small encapsulates (see entire patent, especially the claims).

Cherukuri et al teach a multiple encapsulated flavor delivery system and method where the flavor is encapsulated using a fluidized bed type process (see entire document).

The residence time and the height would be inherent and/or obvious to that of Johnson and Cherukuri et al as the same components and equipment are utilized.

The recitation that the product is made by a new process, if the process were indeed new and patentable, does not render an otherwise unpatentable product new and patentable. It is pointed out that claims 1 and 13-20 are product claims and not process claims. The product must stand on its own invention, independently of the process of producing same. See In re Marosi, 218 USPQ 195; In re Thorpe, 227 USPQ 964; Ex parte Jungfer, 18 USPQ 2nd 1976.

It is also noted that to make a process continuous does not add patentability to the claims, see In re Korpi, 602 OG 672.

In the absence of unexpected results, it is not seen how the claimed invention differs from the teachings of the prior art. Applicant's claims are drawn to a combination of known components which produces expected results, see In re Kerkhoven 205 USPQ 1069 and In re Gershon 152 USPQ 602.

Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to Leslie Wong whose telephone number is 571-272-1411. The examiner can normally be reached on Tuesday-Friday.
